Introduction

Sanofi UK is part of a global healthcare leader committed to the discovery, development and distribution of therapeutic solutions focused on the needs of the people we treat. Improving access to healthcare and providing the best support to you through a full continuum of care – from prevention to treatment – guide our actions day by day. In the context of a changing world, we are all facing greater health challenges. We strive to transform scientific innovations into healthcare solutions that make a difference to your daily life wherever you live and enable you to enjoy a healthier life. Sanofi UK is organised into five business units: Diabetes and Cardiovascular, General Medicines, Sanofi Genzyme, Sanofi Pasteur and Consumer Healthcare.

We ensure the way we contribute to improving health is one which is both sustainable and responsible. We are convinced that each of us has an obligation to leave the world a better place for the next generation.

Corporate Social Responsibility (“CSR”) is built into our corporate strategy and the CSR Department is responsible for managing and integrating our CSR approach at every level of the company – locally, regionally and globally. Beyond the coordination, the CSR Direction also drives our strategy, develops awareness about CSR issues, promotes good practices across all our entities, and communicates about our initiatives to our stakeholders while engaging them to develop action plans that address our CSR challenges and improve our business performance.

Sanofi UK consists of the following Sanofi companies operating and carrying on business within the UK:

- AVENTIS PHARMA LIMITED
- FISIONS LIMITED
- GENZYME THERAPEUTICS LIMITED
- GENZYME LIMITED

Sanofi UK is integrated into a global supply chain involved in the manufacturing of active pharmaceutical ingredients, finished goods, devices and packaging through a global network of manufacturing sites and distribution centres. This network includes the procurement of goods and services from a large number of external contractors.

Sanofi UK understands the global challenges related to slavery and human trafficking and works to ensure that this is not present in any part of our business, including all suppliers and the supply chain.

Our Policies

Sanofi UK is required to comply with all Sanofi policies including our Code of Ethics which outlines our commitment to complying with national laws and regulations in the areas of human rights and labour law. In particular:

- Respect for the Individual – fostering a workplace environment for our partners where personal dignity is respected;
- Fighting Bribery and Corruption – committing to fighting all forms of corruption;
- Security in dealings with contractors – ensuring that our contractors adhere to the fundamental principles of the International Labour Organisation, in particular those relating to child labour, working hours, pay, freedom of expression and equality of opportunity; and
- Compliance Helpline - aimed principally at our employees but also available to others working in our supply chains which encourages employees to report any wrongdoing which extends to human rights violations. Any reports are fully investigated and appropriate remedial actions taken.

The applicable Sanofi policies confirm that we will not tolerate or condone abuse of human rights within any part of our business or supply chains.

Sanofi UK Employees

All employees who work for Sanofi UK are background checked, having their identity, qualifications and previous work history verified as a condition of employment. We abide by the requirements of the UK Border Agency and verify employees' right to live and work in the UK. Regular audits are made of employees who have only a temporary right to remain.

Sanofi ensures that all employees are paid at minimum in accordance with National Minimum Wage legislation.

Sanofi UK Suppliers

Sanofi UK conducts due diligence on all of its suppliers. The standard Request for Proposals used by Sanofi UK attaches the Sanofi Supplier Code of Conduct as well as a questionnaire that includes enquiries pertaining to potential suppliers' economic, social and environmental performance and a statement advising potential suppliers that they are expected to be compliant with the Sanofi Supplier Code of Conduct (which includes prohibitions on child and forced labour). In addition, Sanofi's UK's Standard Services Agreement that may be provided to potential suppliers includes a warranty from such potential supplier that it will carry out any services in full compliance with (and ensure that all its personnel comply with) all applicable legislation, regulations, codes of practice, guidance notes and other requirements of any relevant government or governmental agency as these may be amended, implemented, modified or supplemented from time to time. In each case Sanofi UK reserves the right to audit to ensure compliance to our high standards on quality and ethical behaviour.

Sanofi UK assesses the extent to which its supplier can be considered a business or procurement risk. This assessment depends on various factors including, for example, the nature of the goods and/or services supplied and/or their country of origin). Suppliers who fall into the business or procurement risk category can be asked to complete specific supplier assessment questionnaires. The questionnaires include enquiries pertaining to the suppliers' economic, social and environmental performance, including questions aimed at ensuring respect for human rights. Depending on the response to the questionnaire, representatives of Sanofi may ask the suppliers for more information and their participation in a face-to-face interview. Additionally, based on the quality of the responses, Sanofi may choose to conduct a third party supplier audit. In cases where potential issues as to particular suppliers have been identified, the company has taken appropriate action dependent on the circumstances presented, including, for example, working with the supplier to develop an improvement plan, or declining to continue the supplier relationship.

Review of Performance

An overview of Sanofi UK's effectiveness in preventing and detecting non-compliance with local laws and regulations and violations of its Code of Ethics (including breaches of human rights such as forced labour and human trafficking) is presented at the UK Ethics & Business Integrity Committee held three times a year. Results in the areas of investigations (including those arising from reports received via the Compliance Helpline), due diligence on third parties and training are discussed with the local management team and the appropriate remedial actions taken.

Training and Capacity Building

As part of their employment conditions, all Sanofi UK employees must agree to uphold Sanofi's Code of Ethics and training is provided as part of on-boarding and throughout employment on topics relating to business ethics.

On an annual basis ethical topics for training purposes are identified by the Executive Compliance Committee. Such requirements are cascaded through Sanofi for active participation by all Sanofi personnel. Such topics have included fighting bribery and corruption and ethical decision-making.
